IT LOOKS AS IF THEY HAVE SOMETHING ON THE GYPSY FORTUNE TELLERS

Something a bit stronger than the charge of "not fitting in with the Carmel atmosphere" seems to be what the city council wants Carmel's two gypsy fortune tellers to answer to when they appear at a public hearing June 3 or 4 to show cause why their license should not be revoked.

It appears that the council has some evidence involving the manipulations of greenbacks in a mysterious manner, and some sort of a deep design on the part of the gypsies on cash that isn't hay.

Whatever it is, the city attorney is said to be ready to spring it at the public hearing.

WHAT'S BASICALLY WRONG WITH THIS CD SET-UP?

Something is basically wrong with it. It has functioned twice on most important matters, matters which involved most definitely the welfare of the physical as well as mental well-being of the community and both times it has muddled.

We are not, in this instance, criticizing the Carmel Civilian Defense organization. In both the above instances the orders came from over its head—from Monterey, from the Peninsula organization which, we understand, is the hen under whose protective wings the community organizations brood, and at whose beck and call they run.

Within scarcely a week after Pearl Harbor the order came to Carmel from the Peninsula Civilian Defense headquarters in Monterey for us to evacuate. It came at night, and during a complete black-out. Only the prompt action of Mayor Keith Evans and City Attorney William L. Hudson prevented a catastrophe that is terrible to imagine. As it was, there were several instances of mental torture and physical distress as a result of the unfounded order from Monterey.

Then comes this fiasco of last Saturday—the dim-out order which included the demand that automobiles be operated only with parking lights anywhere on the Peninsula, and then, after the confusion of Saturday night, the countermand order

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

George E. Outland

Two weeks ago several Carmel members of the Democratic Party broke bread with George E. Outland of Santa Barbara, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the new 11th Congressional district, in which is Monterey County, along with San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. From what we gather the Peninsula Democrats were greatly impressed by Outland. We print his picture this week, next week we'll tell you something about him.

SEE REAL BOMBS TONIGHT AND LEARN WHAT TO DO TO STRANGLE THEM

Tonight, at 8 o'clock starts the Civilian Defense program of enlightenment at Sunset School in the lunchroom. Mayor Evans will talk on the vital importance of the CD organization and what it is doing.

Then, at 9 o'clock in the Sunset School yard there will be a demonstration in which real incendiary bombs will be used, and the Carmel Fire Department will show you how to extinguish them.

You should be there!

ATTENTION, ARMY!

Six hundred and fifty women will be at Hotel Del Monte over the week-end! They are members of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women and they're holding a convention—but you know conventions!

MARGUERITE TICKLE TO TALK ON KDON ABOUT A. W. V. S.

Turn your radio dial to KDON at 1:30 p. m. today and listen to Miss Marguerite Tickle. Miss Tickle will talk for about five minutes on the activities of the American Women's Volunteer Services and the work it is doing on the Peninsula.

THE CYMBAL'S Telephone Number is One-One Hundred.

"Charlie's Aunt" To Be Staged For C. D.

The old sure-fire laugh-provoker, "Charlie's Aunt", with Carmel's own Lloyd Weer in the leading role, will be presented the evenings of July 3 and 4 at Sunset auditorium. All the proceeds will be turned over to Civilian Defense by the players, who have organized under the name of the Charlie's Aunt Players with Marie Short as manager.

Besides the intrepid Mr. Weer, the following will have parts in "Charlie's Aunt": Jessie Joan Brown, Agnes Fraser, Marian Todd, Barbara and Milton Stitt, Willette Allen. Lee Crowe is directing, Marian Howes is stage managing, Rhoda Johnson will do the costumes, and Franklin Dixon and Frank Dickinson the sets.

AT LAST! WE GET AIR RAID SIGNAL WE CAN RECOGNIZE AT ONCE!

Our air raid signal for a black-out will henceforth be a long wavering blast of the fire siren. The city council Wednesday night passed an ordinance so providing. This signal will conform to the nationally official one, also adopted by Monterey and Pacific Grove.

It's Poppy Day Tomorrow

Don't forget to buy a poppy tomorrow. Girl Scouts and various members of the American Legion Auxiliary will be selling them on the streets. The proceeds go to the disabled veterans of the First World War and, in spite of any lurking fears to the contrary, the men make the poppies themselves throughout the year, and the proceeds go entirely to them for the little extras they need, and sometimes to their families.

Mrs. Ed Ewig is chairman of the annual Poppy Day sale this year.

JAMES FITZGERALD DOES SETS FOR "TATTERS"

The First Theater, Monterey, has drawn distinguished talent to its historic boards, but not before has it had the honor of having its sets "done" by one of America's outstanding painters. James Fitzgerald, whose current show at the Del Monte Hotel gallery is attracting discriminating visitors, is painting the settings for "Tatters, the Pet of Squatters Gulch", which opens next Thursday evening, May 28. "Tatters" is history, and now its settings will also go down in history, drawing as many to see the brilliant curtains as the thrilling melodrama.

Carmel's Gypsy Fortune Tellers Called On Carpet by City Council

Carmel's two gypsy fortune tellers occupying the store next to the McDonald Dairy on Ocean avenue between San Carlos and Mission, are in for a public hearing before the city council, probably on June 4.

The council set the hearing for its regular meeting, June 3, but will probably adjourn after transacting regular business until the following evening for the public hearing, anticipating, or apprehending, a long and hectic session on the thing.

Two weeks ago the council received a petition signed by 35 citizens, asking that the license held by the gypsies be revoked. The petitioners were championed before the council by Wilma Cook, editor of the Pine Cone, who said she felt that the gypsies were "a discordant note in the Carmel atmosphere", or something along that line. Council members, or four of them, didn't appear to think there was any foundation for an objection to the gypsies and decided that unless there was some evidence of evil-doing on their part, their license could not be revoked anymore than that of any of the other fortune tellers licensed in the city.

However, it said it would have police investigate further and such action has resulted in the order for the gypsies to show cause at the public hearing why their license should not be revoked.

To Honor Dead

On request of the Carmel Post of the American Legion, through the spokesmanship of Councilman Fred McIndoe, the council Wednesday night authorized the placing of a big boulder in the city park on which are to be engraved the names of the boys from Carmel who have lost their lives in the war. We suppose this ought to be written: "who will have lost their lives in the war", but we don't like to have to write it that way. However, the rock is to be placed in the corner of the park at Sixth and Mission streets and for the present it will have only one name—that of Gordon Bain, who, as a member of the R. A. F., was shot down over Scotland a month ago.

Police Get More Money

The council voted to increase the car maintenance allowance to four members of the police department $10 a month. They now get $25 and will hereafter get $35. The increase will go to Chief of Police Roy Fraties and Patrolmen Earl Wermuth, Leslie Overhulse and Frank L. Hay.

Superintendent of Streets William Askew was given an increase in pay from $175 a month to $190. He earns it, and more.

There will be no pyrotechnic celebration of the Fourth of July this year. The council has banned all shooting of firecrackers and the use of all fireworks this year—anywhere in the city. The storm will not be permitted to sell fireworks of any kind.

The Army Warns Peninsula Tap Rooms And Hints at Possible Boycott

Carmel and Monterey are in danger of being declared "off limits" or "out of bounds" for the soldier personnel of the Presidio and Fort Ord if the spirit of the liquor restriction general order of the Army is not completely lived up to by the alcohol beverage sellers in the two towns.

This week the editor of The Cymbal received a personal letter from Lt. J. K. Connell, press relations officer at Fort Ord, accompanying a copy of the General Order, dated May 18, again prescribing hours in which liquor may be sold to and consumed by officers and men of the Army.

The letter says:

"The information contained in the attached General Order is of vital interest to your community, particularly to the tavern and hotel proprietors. Violation of its terms might cause them a substantial decrease in their incomes, because they would lose all trade from soldiers and officers stationed at Fort Ord.

"Please give this as much space as possible, both for the protection of your merchants and the protection of military personnel. Soldiers wouldn't like it any better than tavern operators if this came to pass."

The General Order re-states the restrictions made some months ago, that:

All officers and enlisted men are forbidden:

- To purchase "set-ups" for liquor after 10 p. m.
- To possess and drink liquor in any public place after 10 p. m.
- To secure liquor after 10 p. m. by having some other person purchase same for them.

In this reiteration of the General Order is this pertinent paragraph:

"The letter of the day, regulations and orders is generally followed. Their spirit is frequently disregarded."

over the radio on Sunday and the printed announcement on Monday that the traffic order was to be ignored.

Now, the people, the citizens who really want to do their part in this Civilian Defense business and in the war effort, will stand for just so much of this sort of thing and then they will rise up on their hind legs and yell phooey at an organization which functions with a record of mistakes. This cry of "Wolf, wolf," you know, can get a lot of silence just at the time when the very opposite reaction is necessary for the saving of lives and the protection of property.

We don't know on whom to rubber stamp the guilt, but we do know that there is somewhere, and that it had better be rectified immediately.

We would suggest that hereafter, when Col. Harold Mack gets an idea, he call in the city attorneys of the three Peninsula cities and learn whether or not what he plans to do can be done under the law. After all, we are not yet under martial control, and in this recent fiasco if it had not been for City Attorney Argyll Campbell of Monterey and City Attorney William L. Hudson of Carmel we would probably have been in a nasty mess on this "drive only with parking lights" order. When these two officials heard of the order they immediately notified the police chiefs of their respective cities that it would be wise on their parts not to enforce it. You can't drive at night with nothing but your parking lights without violating a state law, and in case of an accident, while driving that way the insurance company which issued the policy on your car would laugh at you if you tried to collect.

The traffic situation, in regard to the business of dimming lights will have to be handled with a bit more common sense than has yet been displayed by the Monterey Peninsula Civilian Defense organization.

It's Shakespeare Group's Fifth Birthday

It's to be a gala event Monday evening for Bert Heron's Shakespeare Group that will celebrate its fifth anniversary in the studio of the Seven Arts Court on Lincoln street. Members will arrive at 7 p. m. dressed in five-year-old costumes and carrying a basket lunch. A huge pot of coffee will simmer on the hearth over which Bard Heron will mumble an Elizabethan incantation in the Avon manner. Awards will be awarded—one for the most faithful during the five years of meetings and rehearsals, another for the most constant during the past year, and eight other prizes for reasons Bert Heron will dream up between now and then.

P-T. A. SUMMER ROUNDUP TUESDAY, JUNE 2

The annual P-T. A. Summer Round-up, which is the health examination for young children who expect to enter Sunset School next fall, will be held Tuesday, June 2, from 9 a. m. until 11 a. m., at Sunset.

Dr. R. A. Kocher will conduct the examinations.

Just in case YOU SHOULD WANT TO KNOW

STATISTICS ON THE TOWN

Carmel, in a pine forest, (Carmel-by-the-Sea on the unashamed records, and "nestled" in a pine forest, according to the realtors), on the shore of the expansive Pacific Ocean, is about 130 miles south of San Francisco by road and rail, and about 330 miles north of Los Angeles (God help us) by the naturally beautiful but peace-devastating new coast highway.

Within our corporate limits dwell during the tranquil nine months of the year about 2,800 human beings of varying degrees of personal charm, and about 1297 dogs, all lovable. We cover a geographical area of 425 acres and have 1602 dwellings built thereon, some enhancing the beauty of the acres, most of them desecrating the natural beauty in which they crouch. We tolerate 172 separate and distinct, but seldom distinctive places of business.

Directly adjacent to us, but not within our municipal city limits, are residence sections known to us as Carmel Point, Carmel Woods, Pebble Beach, Hatton Fields, La Loma Terrace, Walker Tract and Mission Tract, with an estimated aggregate population of 1,000 human beings and 387 dogs. Also using us for shopping purposes and too often as a recipient for voluntary advice, (a habit not at all foreign to the residents of the directly adjacent sections), are Carmel Highlands, where State Senator Ed Tickle runs his Highlands Inn, and the Carmel Valley. They have an estimated population of 500 humans; dogs, 188.

That gives us about 4,300 human beings and 1,872 dogs in "metropolitan" Carmel.

Our snob department begs leave to report as follows:

Fred Bechdolt, Dr. Francis Lloyd, Dorothea Castelnun, Talbert Joseph, Anne Martin, Mary Bulkeley, Herbert Heron and Peter Hanna live in Carmel; Sam Blythe, Shannah, Susanah and Michael Stanton and Howard Veit live in Pebble Beach; William Ritchel, Martin Flavin, Edward Weston and Dr. D. T. MacDougal live at the Highlands; Robert Welles Ritchie lives in Hatton Fields; Corum Jackson and Melvyn Douglas live in the Mission Tract.

CITY OFFICES AND WHO ARE HOLDING THEM NOW

Five members of the city council who, with their designated commissions, are:

Mayor and Commissioner of Finance—Keith B. Evans.
Commissioner of Police and Lights—Bernard Rowntree.
Commissioner of Streets—P. A. McCreery.

Commissioner of Fire and Water—Fred U. McIndoe.
Commissioner of Health and Safety—Frederick M. Godwin.

The above get nothing but kind words and curses for their labor. The paid officers of the city are City Clerk and Assessor—Saidée Van Brower.

City Treasurer—Ira D. Taylor. The above, including the members of the city council are elected by the people. The following are appointive (paid) offices:

City Attorney—William L. Hudson.

Police Judge—George P. Ross. Building Inspector—Floyd Adams. Telephone 481.

Tax Collector—Thomas J. Hefling. Telephone 376.

Police Department—Chief, Roy Frates; Patrolmen, Earl Wernuth, Leslie Overhulse, Frank L. Hay, Edward Jellich, Woffard Dufer. Telephone 121.

Fire Department—Chief, Vincent Torras. Chief and 24 members are volunteers. Two paid truck drivers. Fire house on Sixth street between San Carlos and Mission streets. Telephone 100.

The City Hall, to which we point without pride, is on Dolores street, between Ocean Avenue and Seventh streets.

The city council holds its regular meetings there on the first Wednesdays after the first Mondays of each month at 7:45 p. m.

JEAN CROUCH FULKERSON HAS A DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulkerson proudly announce the birth of a daughter, Julie Elizabeth, who weighed six and one-half pounds on arrival last Sunday morning at 5 a. m. in Arcata.

Mrs. Fulkerson, as you very well know, is the former Jean Crouch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crouch. She was on the music faculty at Monterey High school. Her husband, Charles, whom she met when he was teaching at San Jose State, is now on the music faculty at Humboldt State College in Arcata where the young couple make their home. Jean has been on the music faculty, too, until just recently.

Mrs. Crouch is in Arcata at present. She went up last week and will remain for two weeks more.

Jean and Charles are planning on coming to Carmel for the Bach Festival this year. Jean will be the only member of the Bach Festival orchestra this year who has been with it every year since its inception eight years ago. Charles assisted Usigli to direct the orchestra last year.

Giants Win 3-2 Against Pilots

In one of the best games ever played in the Abalone League, the fighting Pilots downed the tenacious Shamrocks by the unbelievable score of 3 to 2. The opening game was close for the first five innings but the Giants teed off in the last two innings to emerge victors by the typical Abalone League score of 18 to 10.

Both Allan Knight and Ivan Kelsey pitched well enough to win several Abalone games and either team could have won with a break or two. The fielding was scintillating at times and the heavy hitters were held helpless by the change of pace pitching.

Next Sunday should be a gala day for the Abalone League fans. At 1:45 the Pilots and Shamrocks resume their torrid series with the Pilots fighting to at least tie the Giants. At 3 o'clock the Giants and Tigers meet and the Giants can cinch the trophy by beating their opponents in this one. If the Pilots defeat the Shamrocks and the Tigers win from the Giants, there will be a tie between the Giants and Pilots for first place. In case this happens the two teams involved will play off the tie immediately following the second game.

The climax to the day's festivities will be a big jamboree at the Pine Inn.

Howard Smith To Demonstrate Tempera

Howard E. Smith, whose exhibit of portraits and equestrian subjects is now on view at the Gallery of Fine Arts at Stanford University, will go up to Palo Alto to give a demonstration of tempera painting on the afternoon of Monday, May 25. Invited are the entire art department of Stanford, several other art groups from San Francisco and the Peninsula, and any members of the general public who might be interested.

This Stanford show is the first really big show that Smith has held in California. Announcements for it were sent out this week and it will remain on the walls through June 7. The Stanford Art Gallery is located at the foot of the Hoover Library tower, and its hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. It will be a stop-over for San Francisco-bound citizenry from the Monterey Peninsula whose interest in Howard Smith's work has been unflagging since he first came to Carmel from Boston a few years ago.

Among the portraits loaned for this exhibition is the recent one of Joan Burk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stuart Burk of Carmel and Monte Regio. Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Phelps and Mrs. Shelby McCreery have cooperated by the loan of their portraits, and Mrs. Marshall Fisher of Woodside, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Chamberlain of Carmel, has loaned Smith's portrait of her daughter, Miss Margaret Hitchcock.

In the meantime, Smith is working daily in his Carmel studio, painting cavalry officers and their mounts, as the 107th Cavalry unit is now being dispersed and turned into a mechanized unit. It is said that Smith has to allow time out during these sittings to allow horses and riders to wipe the tears from their eyes. They don't want to be mechanized.

Pat Elliott Is To Be Married

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Elliott, Jr., were given a complete surprise last Monday night. It seems that when their eldest daughter Pat arrived from UCLA that evening she had an attractive young man with her, Gordon Wagner by name, and his ring was on the third finger of her left hand!

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott say the wedding is planned for October at the Carmel Mission. As most of Pat's pals are still away at school, they will wait till later in the summer to give an official announcement party.

The benedict-to-be is the son of Mrs. Evelyn Wagner of Hermosa Beach. While he formerly attended UCLA, he is now employed by the North American Airplane plant at Inglewood where he designs jigs, which we suppose means something to do with tools for building airplanes.

Just before Pat left for Carmel she made her own announcement of her engagement at Bannister Hall, her school home.

Pat Cunningham, Looking Like a Million, Back to Start Art Institute Off

Pat Cunningham, looking like a million in spite of the blindness she is forced to wear continually because of eye-strain, is back again in Carmel full of plans and enthusiasm for the Carmel Art Institute this coming summer.

Pat has been teaching drawing, painting and composition at the University of California since January. John stayed here for a while, but then dashed off to the Red Sea on a freighter. The Carmel Art Institute, of which they are directors, kept right on with its work—at least the students did.

Just about in the middle of the semester at Cal. Pat suddenly thought it would be a good idea to take some courses in child education and development. She has never been quite satisfied with the way the children's classes at the Institute have been run each summer. She had to make up the lost time—hence the eye-strain. The result will be special emphasis on children's classes. There will be two sessions, and classes will be held twice a week, one for the younger children and one for the older. Pat will supervise, but John's sister, Elaine Cunningham, will arrive from New York City June 1 to teach these classes. Miss Cunningham is an expert on child development and education, and as that subject is the pet of the New York school board, her experience is tops. She will make her home with the Cunninghams all this summer. She is a spectacular blonde who looks very much like John. The same fine white teeth and grand smile.

Oh, yes. John is due back July 1.

But that isn't all. Pat is expecting two more women to spend the summer with her. She says she's going to have to find a larger house. Miss Margaret Valiant heads the music for N. Y. A. in New York City. She is a wonderful person and just like her name, says Pat.

The third decoy (the term is Pat's, not ours) is Mrs. Hedwig Falkell of San Francisco. Mrs. Falkell's husband has a commission in the marines, and she will not only aid Pat at the Institute this summer, but probably turn all of Fort Ord on its head.

Summer sessions for adult classes will be the same as last year, and will be open June 1.

Art Gallery Has Most Successful Reception

You couldn't see pictures for people at the Carmel Art Gallery Wednesday afternoon when the art association held a public reception to launch its new show. Occasional glimpses of paintings seen between various shoulders and heads gave the impression that this is a "new" show in every sense of the word. A lot of the work of the younger artists.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cass, the curator, should be complimented on staging a very nice, dignified affair. Miss Willette Allen served the punch. Abbie Lou Williams passed around the cakes and stuff.

Horror Pictures For a Purpose

The army doesn't expect the people to like it, but that group of horror pictures in the window of the Carmel Investment Co. is merely an amplification of the current "Zip Your Lip Campaign" and the first of many other posters that will appear regularly every week or ten days.

Lieut. Jack Connell, of the Public Relations staff at Fort Ord, conceived the idea of visual aid for civilians whose idea of the war is still tempered by imperturbation, when he saw two posters that Pvt. Howard E. Neslen, staff artist of Panorama, turned over to him for comment.

Urged on by Lieut. Connell, Neslen has turned out two dozen posters picturizing in color the tragedies connected with the war that we read of daily in the papers. Groups of them will be rotated between Watsonville, Salinas, Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel. They are not pretty, and the Public Relations Bureau of the Army is quite prepared for the criticism that will come on the grounds that they are trying to scare people. But if they can put across the idea of WHY the army is trying to impress people with the "Zip Your Lip" campaign, they are willing to take any amount of adverse criticism.

Carmel Cast in War Bond Radio Program

"The healthiest, wealthiest, luckiest place in the world, the average American home"—that was how the announcer described the setting for the dramatic little radio skit played over KDON Thursday afternoon at 5:15 by a group of well known Carmel theater people. It was part of the pledge victory campaign for selling war bonds, and another performance of a different skit for the same purpose will be given Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m., also over KDON.

USIGLI HILDS FIRST BACH REHEARSAL MONDAY

Gastone Usigli, conductor of Carmel's Eighth Annual Bach Festival, July 20-26, will hold his first rehearsal of the Bach Festival Chorus on next Monday evening, at 7:30, in Room 15 of the Sunset School. New singers are invited to come. A special preparatory rehearsal under Dene Denny will be held in Room 15 tonight, at 7 o'clock, and all who can come are urged to do so.

Here's What CD Still Needs in Man, Woman Aid

Carmel's war worker personnel is considerably greater than the country's average. Carmelites have turned out to make Carmel safe in an intelligent and conscientious way.

But there are still jobs to be done in the Civilian Defense organization. Following is a list of the help still needed. It is suggested you check it over, decide whether or not you can take over responsibility for any of these jobs, and if you can, call or drop in at the Civilian Defense office on Sixth between San Carlos and Dolores to register.

During the past weeks CD has published a list of the Block Warden organizations of each precinct, indicating the blocks that are not now serviced. Walk around your own block. If you don't find a block warden sign on any house, and if you feel you can qualify for this work, by all means get in touch with your Senior Air Raid Warden and offer your services.

The Women's Auxiliary of Civilian Defense has already done yeoman service in making surveys, spotting children's shelters, helping in salvage work. We can always use more women who want to help and are not afraid of work. Call or stop in at the CD office if you have time to give to this kind of effort.

Men, women and older boys and girls can help in this work. It's not only the job of reclaiming valuable materials to help win the war, but also can be a source of income for the community. If you're interested call up the CD office.

Recruits are still needed for the control center. In order to qualify for this job you must be free of family responsibilities (no children or invalids to care for). CD had hoped to get girls and women with telephone experience. There are not enough of these in Carmel. CD will train you in telephone procedure if you can meet the other qualifications. Call or stop in at the CD office and volunteer.

WATCH FORTIER'S FOR CD DISPLAY

The six-foot Ritschel painting will be unveiled and the Honor Roll of Carmel men in the armed services will be completed some time next week. Be sure to see the inspiring window arranged on the Dolores street side of Fortier's. CD is not sure we have a complete list of names. If the name of a friend or relative of yours is not there, be sure to call the CD office and we'll correct the oversight.

Carmel Boy Makes Good in Navy

Louis Holtzhauer, Jr., on shore leave and visiting his parents in Carmel last week, has proved that the navy recruiting ads are right. A bright young man can advance in the navy by taking advantage of the training courses offered.

Louis enlisted in the navy in September, 1940. In July, 1941, he became first class seaman. From there he quickly moved up to gunner's mate. He is now gun pointer and captain of his gun crew. He went through the holocaust at Pearl Harbor and is now off again to an unknown destination.

Both Louis' brothers—Arthur and Rudolph, are in the Army. Louis graduated from Monterey High, played on the baseball team, and was one of the most active boys in the Carmel Progressive Association, that organization of Carmel youngsters that has contributed so many fighting men to the armed forces.

Public Meeting at Sunset Tonight

If you have a criticism to make of the conduct of Civilian Defense in Carmel, if you have any doubt about how it operates here, be sure to attend the Public CD meeting tonight at Sunset Library.

Mayor Keith Evans will review the accomplishments of Civilian Defense to date, tell you what can be expected of the Civilian Defense organization in emergencies.

The public may ask questions and make suggestions.

CD hopes to follow the meeting with a demonstration on how to put out incendiary bombs. The shipment of bombs has been on the way for a month and should arrive. If not, the bomb demonstration will be held at a later date.

FINE CD DISPLAY IN FORTIER'S WINDOW

With the Ritschel painting as its central feature, the Carmel Civilian Defense display in one of the Dolores street windows of Fortier's Drug store is attracting much attention. The very fine lettering of the names of the Carmel men with the armed forces, and of the list of CD activities is the work of Mrs. Frank Bell.

AUXILIARY FIREMEN GET BADGES AND DIPLOMAS

Officers of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department were hosts last Tuesday night to the 26 Auxiliary Firemen who are part of the Civilian Defense organization of the city. They were given their credentials and badges and are now ready to augment the regular firemen in any emergency.

Clip This Item; Paste It Up in Your Kitchen

Income for the city from gasoline taxes, rom liquor, taxes, car registrations, and business taxes will go down. The one way in which we can partly make up for these serious losses in revenue is salvage.

However, it is not enough to save paper and tin cans. They must be handled properly in the homes to get the most value. Fifty per cent of the paper collected in Carmel during the past few weeks will be worthless because it cannot be handled by the salvage committee.

Here are instructions for the preparation of paper and tin cans.

PAPER

1. Tie newspapers in bundles 7 inches thick, folded as they come from the newsstands.
2. Tie magazines in bundles 7 inches thick with sizes graduated.
3. Use heavy cord if possible. If not, used five thicknesses of string.

TIN CANS

1. Wash cans and remove labels.
2. Cut both ends and turn them in.
3. Flatten can by stepping on it.

WELLS FARGO DISPLAY IN MONTEREY COUNTY BANK

We've been a long time getting around to this, but have you seen the display in the lobby of the Monterey Trust & Savings Bank on Dolores tw.? Franklin Dixon arranged it. It's an old Western display with a Wells Fargo money chest as the base and central subject. The chest was used in '49 in the old stage coach days. It is owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Abernethy—Abernethy is manager of the Carmel branch of the bank. Replicas of old gold bars shown in the display were made by Dixon. There are also photographs of the old Massoit Hotel and of a stage coach.

THE CYMBAL'S Telephone Number is One-One Hundred.

DEFENSE BOND PLEDGE DRIVE STARTS SUNDAY

The National Pledge Drive of Defense Bonds and Stamps begins Sunday and extends through Memorial Day and Carmel is ready.

The organization here, for a house-to-house canvass by the Minute Men, has been effected by Councilman Fred Godwin and Carmel is expected to do its bit. The government is asking that we give ten per cent of our incomes, or, rather, to pledge ourselves to do that.

A Minute Man with a pledge card will call at your home some day next week, and he will have a sticker for you to put in your window to show that you have made your pledge.

Captain of Marblehead Has Mother, Two Sisters, Niece and Nephew in Carmel

The odyssey of the light cruiser, U. S. S. Marblehead, which arrived safely in an eastern port recently after dragging her bombed and battered hulk across 18,500 miles of open sea, is of particular interest to Carmel because her skipper, Capt. Arthur Granville Robinson, has a mother, two sisters, a niece and a nephew in Carmel, and both he and his wife are well known on the Peninsula.

Capt. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Clay Greene, was in San Francisco on Mother's Day, so she received Dr. James E. Crowther's tribute that day at the Church of the Wayfarer, secondhand from the scores of friends who were so impressed by the beauty of his message to her.

There were weeks of suspense when no official word was forthcoming on the fate of the Marblehead, and three times she was reported sunk by the Japanese during that February 4th offensive off Balikpapan. The three months that followed were tense and trying for the closely knit little family. During the month of April, Mrs. Inez Robinson, the captain's wife, was visiting here in Carmel, the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Abbott. (Mrs. Abbott is the former Helen Greene, sister of Captain Robinson). It was during April that the Japanese drive to conquer the Netherlands East Indies was at its height, and news was of the grimmest. Mrs. Robinson hovered constantly over the radio day and night, trying desperately to pick up enough bits of news to make a picture. The one hope they clung to was the fact that no word had come to them from the navy department.

"Mother was more stoical than any of us," said Mrs. Abbott. "She was simply marvelous—a tower of strength and fortitude."

It was only after she knew her son was safe and sound and secure that Mrs. Greene broke down and wept. The news came to them two days before it was officially released from Washington, and they could say no word of it to anyone until then. It came directly from Captain Robinson himself, who telephoned his wife, then in Los Angeles, where she had arrived a few days before.

It is no wonder that the Marblehead has been called a "ghost ship." Thirty-seven Japanese land bombers, unharassed by any allied air support, dropped bomb after bomb on the squadron of 12 American and Dutch cruisers and destroyers. Captain Robinson, conning a course like a snake's track across the water, managed to keep clear of a hit for three-quarters of an hour. The first hit shattered the steering gear. The sick bay was smashed. Columns of flame and black oil smoke towered fore and aft. The ship was making water like a sieve. Burning oil, water, and the bodies of the dead and wounded made of the decks a holocaust. The bombing kept up for three hours. But never once was there a thought of abandoning ship!

Fortunately the engines were not damaged. All that night, in the dark and the rain, they zigzagged through the Straits of Macassar. By speeding up first one screw and then the other, they managed to make headway and brought the Marblehead into her first port, Tjilatjap on the south coast of Java. The crew had been bailing out the 7050-ton craft with buckets for 48 hours.

The one bright spot in the whole experience was Fook Liang, the Chinese cook. By some marvel of abracadabra known only to the Chinese, he appeared in whites half an hour after the cruiser was struck, and brought them steaming hot coffee. The fact that the steam lines and the electrical wiring was ruptured, and that there was no fresh water, made no difference to him.

The Marblehead buried her dead at Tjilatjap and put ashore her wounded. The crew patched up the gaping wounds in her bow and made for Ceylon just before the Japanese bombers came. They steered the 1985 nautical miles to Ceylon by their engines, just as they'd steered the 550 miles into Tjilatjap. At Ceylon they got the rudder fixed and got her out again just ahead of the Japanese bombers. She made the 4376 miles to South Africa under her own power and from there was made fairly seaworthy for the long journey home.

Captain Robinson received the navy cross from Secretary Knox on May 14. Because they were able to finish the job and arrive home to tell about it, the saga of the Marblehead will go down in history, but Capt. Robinson received the cross almost as a dedication to the many unsung heroes who performed great and valiant deeds but who were not destined, as was the Marblehead, to reach their port at last.—M. W.

D. WILLIAMS GOES TO GET HIS SPECIALIST DIPLOMA

Dr. Russell Williams will be leaving for Philadelphia the end of the month and will be back again about the middle of June. While he goes officially to take the special medical examination given by the American Medical Association for specialists, the trip will also serve as a medium for looking up old friends and relations at Johns Hopkins and the Presbyterian Hospital.

The coming exam is an oral one; the written test he has already passed here in California. When it's over, Dr. Williams will be listed by the A. M. A. as a specialist in internal medicine. That's if he passes. He'll pass.

MONTEREY HOLDS EARLY GRADUATION

Students at the Monterey high school and elementary schools were graduated this week, two weeks earlier than is the custom. Main reason is the construction now under way at the Walter Colton school. Carmel and Pacific Grove pupils still have another two weeks to go before the long summer vacation stretches out before them.

Douglas School Red Cross Has Big Program

The Douglas School, with Mrs. Grace Parsons Douglas as Junior Red Cross student advisor, and Miss Louise Kuffner as student chairman, have had a very full and interesting program.

As a project for the year the group voted to care for a tubercular family of four, with two children. They saw to it that they were furnished with toys at Christmas, had a Christmas tree and Christmas dinner. There has been a follow-up through the year to see that the children have shoes and other necessities and a few luxuries.

Under Miss Sue Brooks, Red Cross First Aid instructor, 23 members of the school, including pupils and instructors, qualified for their First Aid certificates.

The students also made cookies and collected books for the Station Hospital at Fort Ord.

Seniors Sit in As Councilmen

With Eleanor (Tiny) Johnston sitting at the head of the table and quite delightfully impersonating the mayor, six members of the senior class of Carmel High School took over the business of running the city government while the duly elected councilmen and the city attorney sat back and did a little prompting.

The students discussed the matter of a recreation center in the city and the suggestion was made that perhaps the Forest Hill school building might be taken over by the young people of the town. The perplexing problem of student hitchhiking to and from school on the Ocean Avenue hill was also discussed and the young councilmen said that they would bring the matter before the Student Body.

Besides Mayor Johnston the acting city officials were:

Peter Thatcher, commissioner of police; Eade Jordan, commissioner of streets; DeWitt Appleton, commissioner of fire and water; Toland Doud, commissioner of health and safety, and Don Tocher, city attorney.

The only parents present in the lobby to see their children function were Mr. and Mrs. Markham Johnston.

JUNIOR RED CROSS WORK IN PINE CONE WINDOW

An interesting display of Junior Red Cross work is in the window of the Pine Cone office on Dolores street. All of this work was done by 3rd and 4th grade children for Chinese orphans. It is well worth seeing.

CYMBAL CLASSIFIED ADS have power far beyond their size and muscle.

YOU HAVE YOUR SUGAR CARD, BUT WHERE IS YOUR TWEED COAT?

Somebody came out of the Sunset School gym during the four days of sugar rationings plus her card but minus a tweed coat. It's a very nice, 100 per cent wool coat, gray with a purplish tinge to it, lined with gray and bearing the trade label, "Heatherstones." With all the recent chilly weather it's a wonder the owner hasn't missed it. Mrs. Helen Wood, principal of Sunset School, who was in charge of the sugar-rationing card distribution, has been trying to make connections between the coat and the owner but with no success. She hopes that someone will see this story and suddenly realize she has an empty coat hanger in the house. If so, call Mrs. Wood at Sunset School.

Students Change Places With Teachers

Wednesday, May 13, the senior class of Carmel High took over the teachers' work of trying to teach the students.

Each student had one class in which to teach in their own way. While the students taught, the teachers sat at the back of the room and listened to their substitute teacher.

The students made up their teaching plans about a week ahead. Some gave tests, some made the students give talks and still others didn't really plan much of anything.

All in all, the seniors and rest of the school had a nice time and the juniors are looking forward to doing it next year when they are seniors.

Carol to Headline June Delight Recital

Carol Lynn, talented daughter of June Delight, who has grown up and danced in Carmel for the past nine years, will be the headline attraction at Miss Delight's dance recital which will be held Sunday afternoon in Sunset Auditorium at 2:30 p. m.

Appearing in the various precision numbers, the tap, ballet, Spanish and character dances, are the following: Jean Turner, Flora Lee and Laura Lee Koepp, Mary Jeanne Metcalf, Carol Lynn, Carol Classic, Gwendolyn Reed, Sherlie Sousa, Billy Pat Torras, Ladisla Narvaez, Marion Perkins, Dianne Lewis, Jean Glover, Marilyn Henderson, Wanda Warren, Ann Gamblee, Carol Graham, Betty Jean De Amaral, June Delight II, Patsy Canoles, Frankie De Amaral, Bobby Brown, Bobby Cook and Denny Classic.

The FIRST GALLEY

SHORT SHORTS

The thoughts of youth may have been long, long thoughts, in the days of Henry W. L., but nowadays it would seem to me they might more accurately be described as short-shorts!

This is particularly true when applied to the hobbies taken up by a close relative of mine. When I am asked, as I usually am during the month of April, what he wants for his birthday early in May, I reply, "Wait till the day before and then I'll tell you what he's interested in."

This close relative is just halfway through his second decade but the hobbies he has been passionately devoted to number many times the total years of his youth.

In the long succession of interests there have been, of course, a variety of pets, which might be counted as hobbies. There was the time when life was filled excitingly with the whirring of wings and the gentle cooings of Lynda and Jeff, Kathryn and Doc, Libby, Isabelle, Archibald, Sidney and Susie.

Then there was the time when this close relative (I might as well break down and give him his rightful name—it's no secret anyway to those who know the Bassett family—) well, there was a time when Oliver, in partnership with his Berkeley friend, Kinnear Smith, thought it would be a swell idea to go into the snake business. This scheme began when they tried to sell a little gopher snake to the Pet Shop. Instead of making the transaction they returned, pop-eyed with excitement, gingerly carrying a big glass bottle containing, not only their original snake, but a baby rattler which the Pet Shop had given them! Fortunately for the family peace of mind, the young Crotalus did not live more than a few days.

Strictly speaking, I suppose Gerry, our French bull with her homely, wrinkled little black face, comes under the category of pets, but to Oliver, as to the rest of us, she is not a passing hobby, she is "family"—for as long as a kind providence will let her stay with us.

We sail a broken course steering from one hobby to the next. Sometimes it's quite a long leg before we come about on another tack, sometimes a short one. Almost all hobbies, however, require some maternal cooperation—"Mother, where is that piece of leather we had?" "Mother, could you make me a butterfly net right away?" "Mother, I need a flat cardboard box," etcetera ad infinitum.

But mothers, too, are only human. They go along most of the way—a little reluctantly perhaps at times when certain bulky collections threaten to overwhelm the family living quarters—but in general trying to live up to what is expected of a modern mother in the best tradition. Nowadays the young know what they can demand, too, and Oliver is no exception. "Why, mother, aren't you interested in your only child's hobby? I should think you'd encourage me!"

So... I've made butterfly nets, furnished endless quantities of cardboard, paper, string, thread, sealing wax, cloth, boxes, tins, glue, etcetera; collected postmarks, moonstones, shells and pebbles; helped plan, construct and concoct pens, cages, barometers, albums and catalogs; admired water color sketches; watched broadjumping and horseshoe pitching; remained outwardly calm during roller-skating and horseback riding eras; and kept daily temperature and humidity records while the meteorology star was in the ascendant.

The Worm Turns

There came the day when the worm turned, however. Books (every time Oliver gets a new hobby he raids the public library and reads up enthusiastically on his latest interest) began to appear dealing with the subject of puppets and marionettes. I could see the handwriting on the wall, a vision of myself toiling over fussy little costumes for puppets—when sewing has ceased to be anything but a chore for me! Moreover, I'd been through a couple of puppet periods, so to speak, when I really worked to share my child's hobby. I remembered how soon his interest palled and how all my careful sewing seemed a dead waste. I decided the time had come when I was an individual and not a mother. Firmly I announced: "If you take up puppets you might as well know right now that you'll do it alone. With the exception of the Yale Puppeteers I have absolutely no interest in the subject—in fact, puppets bore me!"

We Collect Pennies

After his first astonishment at this unprecedented rebellion of the meek maternal worm, Oliver, being of a pleasantly adaptable nature, accepted the inevitable philosophically and gave up puppets. Instead, he began collecting pennies. I fell in line immediately; miraculously produced an 1864 Indian head penny, and plundered the purses of relatives and friends for pennies of all dates. Moreover I found the piece of cardboard for mounting the pennies, remembered where the cellophane tape and the ruler were hiding, and generally cooperated with enthusiasm, grateful for having escaped the puppet-dressmaking. Oliver, quite aware of his tendency to make short-shorts of his succession of hobbies, remarked: "Coins are awfully fascinating, aren't they? At least, tonight I think they are!"

Pennies, of course, take only a part-time effort. So also does the care of the present pets, which occupy a fancy cartonnage with screened windows, a miniature garden of growing things and an assorted equipment for athletic diversions. "They're putt-in' around at a great rate," says their owner, "Jolly little beggars. You ought to watch them!" What are these lively cage-occupants? Oh, I didn't explain—they're caterpillars.

But now there's only one real thrill in life and that's—FISHING! —D. C. B.

P. S. Don't throw away your old silk stockings. They may be on their last legs but not on their last knitting needles! The Red Cross knitters (which includes me) can use all they can get to make into stretcher pads. So please roll 'em up and throw 'em over the Dutch door into The Cymbal office when you're on your daily post office parade. Never mind if you hit anyone—Katie and Marjorie won't mind. Neither will the editor.

"Reveille Ann" Is Mother of 11

Culminating a canine romance that has been intriguing the citizens of Carmel since December, was the arrival early last Sunday morning of 11 Dalmatian pups to Reveille Ann, an army lass belonging to Mrs. Paul V. Kane of Carmel Woods. The father, Balty of Dal Dale, is terribly proud and terribly interested. He hovers over his family for hours at a time.

This is because Ann is his wife with whom he has been living since December. His concubine No. 1, Jibby, whose master is Major Herbert Bill of the Medical Corps, produced six Dalmatian pups last Friday. It was only fitting that Ann should present the major litter. The first arrival was a male and was named Carmelo Bugler Boy by Mrs. Kane because he came so early in the morning.

When Ann came to the Kane household and into Balty's life for the first time last December, he was immediately smitten. Out of pure male exhibitionism he took Ann out to see the town. The first place he took her was to Seal Rock out on the Seventeen Mile Drive, then over to Scenic Drive to watch the waves break. It must have impressed Ann no end, as they've been together constantly ever since. They even slept together until this little event of Ann's, when they were, of necessity, parted. Balty seems to understand, however.

These two Dalmatians, of fine championship stock, belong to Col. and Mrs. Kane and their three sons of Carmel Woods.

NUTRITIVE COOKING

RETAINS MINERALS AND VITAMINS FOR HEALTH!

Vitamins and Minerals...

Here's how to cook and boil them, so as not to waste and spoil them:

1. Use little water. Steam vegetables in boiling water.
2. Cook slowly so as to retain vitamins.
3. Cook vegetables as nearly whole as possible. Do not stir.
4. Prevent shrinkage of meat with low-temp roasting.

Consult your dealer about the care and repair of your range.

P.G. and E.

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

HOMEMAKERS throughout America are enlisted for the duration of the war to carry on with Nutritive Cooking.

Nutritive Cooking means just one thing—getting the most out of food that is cooked. Proper cooking retains vitamins and minerals that are in all foods. Improper cooking boils out or destroys these body-building food energies.

Follow the recipes and the menus in your local newspaper and in national magazines that tie-in with the National Nutrition program. Buy food wisely. Store it right. Cook it properly. Take good care of your present range so that it will carry on efficiently and economically for years to come.

PERSONALITIES & PERSONALS

Muriel Glasgow Here

Mrs. Muriel H. B. Glasgow, who left the Monterey Peninsula last October with her husband, Capt. James M. Glasgow, to go to Fort Riley, Kansas, was in Carmel over-night last Monday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andre DaMiano up the valley. The Glasgows have scores of friends here and news of them should be of particular interest especially because it happens to be particularly interesting.

In the first place, Jimmy is no longer a captain. He received his lieutenant-colonelcy about four months ago. And in the second place, Mrs. Glasgow is representative-at-large for the Free French Relief Committee, and doing a swell job of it. Right now she's on an ambassadorial trip with Mrs. Denise Davey. They've visited key cities from St. Louis to El Paso, from Santa Fe to Los Angeles, from San Francisco to Colorado Springs, plus more of the middle west, all on the Free French Mission. The day at Monterey was chiefly to catch a glimpse of the blue ocean and her daughter. Muriel, at Douglas School.

Whitney's Six Years Old

Willard Whitney observed the sixth anniversary of his place of business on Wednesday of this week. It was on May 20, 1926, that he bought the candy store and restaurant known as Basham's.

Fern Hyde Announces

Fern Hyde, in town for an indefinite stay was smilingly informing friends this week that a message from daughter Betty in the East tells of the arrival of Albert Hyde Mitchell as a new grandson for her.

Hither and Yon

Mrs. Emma Evans heard from her son, Hugh, that the Army is calling in all the air cadets for active duty June 1. Hugh is just completing his secondary course of training at the University of Nevada in Reno. He's under draft age, but he expected to be called at any time when he took the course. Mrs. Evans has rented her house on Santa Rita and has moved into Charlie Sayers' guesthouse with her daughter, Doris. Formerly this choice little spot was just her piano studio.

Barbara Wood of the Carmel Public Library just returned from her vacation. Most of it was spent on a ranch in Greenfield with her brother, but she finished up with a few days in San Jose.

Mrs. Gale Griswold of Modesto, who is a patient in the Peninsula Community Hospital, is feeling much happier because her mother came down from Modesto to be with her. While in Carmel Mrs. E. R. Jones is the houseguest of Mrs. Ella S. Goddard.

Anita Whitman (Mrs. Paul) was a house guest of the Adolph Hanks this week. She returned to her San Francisco apartment Tuesday.

Among the yons are the Jackson Menefee Logans. Logan Mister left for San Francisco last Sunday. Peggy will join him just as soon as he finds a place to live. He'll be working for Goldberg, Bowen, the top hamper grocers, from now on, rather than for Nielsen Bros., top hamper grocers of Carmel. Their son, John, arrived in Carmel last Saturday to drive his father up to the City the following day.

Philip MacDougal, son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel T. MacDougal, was graduated from the University of California last week, is home and has enrolled in the machine work training class now functioning at the Monterey Union High School.

Miss Peggy Mathiot, daughter of the K. D. Mathiots of Rancho Carmelo, will be graduated from Mills College in a couple of weeks, and will leave immediately for the East where she'll visit friends and relations in Peoria, Ill., and in Philadelphia and New York. She'll probably be gone all summer.

Up at the Greenan household Edith is having her hands full with Maeve, Jimmie and Owen all in bed with colds and George Kerr arriving from San Francisco with a group of friends.

A four-day pack trip was booked through the "Ask Mr. Foster" service at Hotel Del Mone last week-end by Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Beaudette (Mrs. Beaudette is the former Cobina Wright, Jr.) and Karl Mathiot at Rancho Carmelo had all things set to go for a party of four—but they didn't show up! No word of explanation, either, which seems to be the trend these days.

Add to the list of newlyweds who are making Carmel their home the name of Mr. and Mrs. Archie L. Young, who were at home to their friends for the first time on Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Young is the former Evelyn Laurel of Monterey and her marriage took place in that city May 10.

Miss Carrie Covington, who has been living in San Francisco for some time, has returned again to Carmel to make her home with her niece, Miss Dorothy Stephenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bosworth have left Carmel for their ranch at St. Helena. They'll be there all summer.

Mrs. Ada Winslow, mother of the late Barbara Winslow, has left Carmel for Lake county where she will make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Randal Cockburn. Bonnie and Rannie have a sheep ranch and a small daughter.

Mrs. Robert Mitchell of New York City, the former Betty Hyde of Carmel, gave birth to a nine-pound baby boy at the Knickerbocker Hospital last Saturday. They've called him Albert Hyde Mitchell.

This makes Jean Hyde an aunt, and Fern Hyde a grandmother.

John Wood of the Carmel post office, and Mrs. Wood are leaving tomorrow for a vacation trip during which they will spend most of their time in Vancouver, Canada. Wood says they won't have much to spend because their tickets took almost all the money they had left after Defense Bond purchases.

"Pop" Smith, otherwise known as C. Cecil Smith, left for Los Angeles this morning and will be away about six weeks. He is visiting his daughter, Gerry, who is Mrs. Ludwig L. Kaftan. Dr. and Mrs. Kaftan have a two-year-old son, and have just adopted a little girl, Linda Lee, who was born on Valentine's Day. "Pop", whose hobby is photographing pet dogs, has just completed his 700th.

Haig Patigan, one of the most famous of western sculptors, is vacationing at Del Monte Lodge. Mrs. Patigan is with him, also Colonel and Mrs. Orie Johnson. Both Sculptor Patigan and Col. Johnson are members of the Bohemian Club, and the colonel is a prominent member of the California Indians.

Edward Weston's son, Brett, and granddaughter, Erica, are here from Santa Monica and visiting him at his Carmel Highlands home.

Larry Williams, who went to Canada last year to join the R. C. A. F., and who has been in Halifax most of the winter, has now been transferred back to Victoria, B. C. He's eager to hear from friends, and his address is L. L. P. Williams, F/O., R. C. A. F., Western Air Command Operations, Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rittenhouse, who have been away traveling for more than a year, are back in Carmel and plan to stay here for the duration.

The Martin Flavins are East for a few weeks. Sean Flavin is doing some graduating and there's a new book Martin is to discuss with his publishers.

2-Piano Team Here June 13

The coming recital of Guy and Lois Maier, two-piano team, in the Sunset School Auditorium on Saturday evening, June 13, is interesting not only to piano lovers but lovers of entertainment as well. Guy Maier is famous for his wit in his piano playing. Some special, elusive but humorous quality, which is characteristic of this eminent musician, creeps into his playing, with the result that his piano recitals are not only brilliantly satisfying but fun as well.

The Denny-Watrous Management is attempting to set the Maier concert on Sunday afternoon, June 14, in deference to present conditions. As the Maiers are on tour in the East, exact announcement of whether the recital will be Saturday night or Sunday afternoon cannot be given until next week. Tickets go on sale at the Carmel Land Company, opposite the library, on May 25.

"Tatter" Returns Next Week

"Tatters, the Pet of Squatters' Gulch", returns to the First Theater, Monterey, in a revived, redirected and polished edition, opening next Thursday evening, May 28, to run through the week-end. A special, extra performance will be given on Wednesday, June 3, in celebration of the double anniversary of Monterey's 172nd birthday and the fifth year since the organization of the Troupers of the Gold Coast on June 3, 1937, when they gave the first historic performance of "Tatters" as the reopening of California's First Theater after more than a half century of darkness.

Of all the melodramas which the Denny-Watrous Management has presented in the First Theater, "Tatters" has been the favorite. There were hotel guests who came to see it as often as a half a dozen times, laughing as heartily the last time as the first.

"Tatters" has always had an all-star cast, from the original night when Carmel's irresistible Mary Henderson made her first entrance as the "Pet of Squatters' Gulch."

The present cast, directed by Ronald Telfer, will reveal how far the Gold Coast Troupers have gone since they have come under the professional training of Mr. Telfer. The mantle of Tatters falls to Louise Welty, whose titian-haired charm and spirited abilities are a "natural" for the role. Dan Welty as Mr. Ferris; Roland Scheffler as Phil Dolan; Douglas Hume as Major Timberlake; Jean Humphrey as Mrs. Timberlake; Margaret Mather as Mose; Alma Santa as Clementina; Eddie George as Kent; Dick Santa as Marston; Allan Wyatt as Abe Witherspoon; Darwin Law as the Sheriff. — these make a strong and experienced body of actors.

The new olio will be M.C'd by Douglas Hume, costumes designed and executed by Rhoda Johnson, and Dick Johnson responsible for stage construction.

The settings have been designed and executed by none less than James Fitzgerald, American painter of note.

"The Shadow of the Thin Man" Now at Carmel Theatre; "Bugle Sounds" Next

The film week's schedule leads off tonight with "The Shadow of the Thin Man", with William Powell and Myrna Loy billed for top honors in this one of the best of the mystery comedies of the Thin Man series. The companion feature is Joe E. Brown's "Shut My Big Mouth", in which traditional melodrama is taken for a ride in a succession of mock-heroics. Matinee as usual tomorrow.

On Sunday afternoon "The Bugle Sounds" brings Wallace Beery in a role much superior to any of his recent characterizations. While this three-day picture unfolds a first-rate personal story, the underlying theme is our gigantic preparedness effort and the background is the tremendous world panorama of today. It is of special interest to local picture goers that most of the location scenes were filmed at nearby Fort Ord. Sunday's program will be continuous, as usual.

The films for next Wednesday and Thursday are "Mr. and Mrs. North" and "The Strange Case of Dr. X." Both are mystery comedies, the first-named being based on Owen Davis' fine play which conquered Broadway last year, becoming one of the season's biggest hits. Gracie Allen plays Mr. North, the gabby wife whose talkativeness first involves her husband in and then extricates him from all manner of predicaments, the most outstanding of which is a charge of murder. Comedy runs high in this picture, with a slight modicum of romance. The subordinate roles in the film are said to be unusually well acted and the directorial pace is swift.

Emma Evans Has Annual Spring Recital Sunday

Emma Evans will give her Annual Spring Recital next Sunday at 5 p. m. It will be held in the Brennan house at Carmel Point. The Brennan house is that particularly beautiful one of stone that sits grandly on Sennie Drive at 16th street. It is occupied at present by some very interesting Dutch people, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Meiberg and Mrs. Erica Vandenberg and her young son, who is a pupil of Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Evans has divided the recital into two halves. The first will be devoted to the solo work of her pupils, the second to two-piano work with herself at one instrument. The program will end with Mrs. Evans' presentation of Hal Carrott's "Squiffer Suite" which he composed two years ago especially for Mrs. Evans' pupils.

LEGAL NOTICE

RESOLUTION NO. 909

WHEREAS, under the provisions of Section 114 (d) of the Ordinance Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, the authorized "air raid warning signal" is declared to be four blasts of the Fire Department whistle or siren repeated four or more times and the authorized all clear signal is declared to be two blasts of such whistle or siren repeated four or more times; and

WHEREAS, the signal prescribed by the said section differs from the signal prescribed by cities and counties generally throughout the United States; and

WHEREAS, the City Council is authorized by the provisions of the said section to change the authorized signals from time to time by resolution; and

WHEREAS, the said City Council is of the opinion that it would be advisable that the official air raid warning signal and all clear signal within the said City of Carmel-by-the-Sea conform with the signals used elsewhere;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA as follows:

That from and after Saturday, the 23rd day of May, 1942, at 12 M. o'clock, the official "Air Raid Warning Signal" within the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, shall be a signal by siren, whistle, horn or other audible device of two minutes duration, consisting of either a fluctuating or warbling signal of varying pitch or a succession of intermittent blasts of about five seconds duration, separated by a silent period of about three seconds.

The "All Clear" signal shall be a continuous signal, by siren, horn or other audible device, of two minutes duration at a steady pitch.

The City Clerk is hereby instructed to cause this Resolution to be published once in the CARMEL PINE CONE, the official newspaper of said city, once in the CARMEL CYMBAL and once in the MONTEREY PENINSULA HERALD.

PASSED AND ADOPTED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, this 20th day of May, 1942, by the following vote:

AYES: COUNCILMEN: Evans, McIndoe, Godwin, Rowntree, McGarry.

NOES: COUNCILMEN: None.
ABSENT: COUNCILMEN: None.

APPROVED: May 20, 1942.
K. E. EVANS,
Mayor of said City.

down by the council two weeks ago, came out better at the meeting Wednesday night when the city fathers voted it $10 a month as Carmel's share of the cost. Monterey is providing office space, light, heat and telephone service and Pacific Grove is helping on the expenses. City Clerk Objects

Saidée Van Brower, Carmel's abiding city clerk, is very very mad at Ted Durein, reporter for the Peninsula Herald, who covered the council meeting Wednesday night not only with a pencil, but a camera. Durein wanted a picture of the senior students sitting around the table as they functioned temporarily as city officials, and the city clerk ducked out on the fire escape to avoid appearing in the posed picture. But Durein wasn't going to have it that way and later, when Saidée wasn't aware of his intentions he got her into a picture. She threatened him with all the penalties in the general code if he reproduced the picture. She was really mad—mad as hell.

Valona Brewer, resident in the vicinity of the city property adjoining the Forest Hill School, is not going to get anywhere with her protest against the dumping of salvage material on the municipal lots. She wrote a letter expressing her anger, but the council just voted it to be filed.

Mayor Keith Evans was authorized to purchase for $1,000 out of the gas tax fund property owned by Mrs. Alice Comins on Rio Road between Santa Lucia and Thirteenth streets. It is a triangle piece desired for the eventual opening of Junipero street and the construction of a footpath to the Mission.

Kusters Delight Musical Art Members

It was the final meeting of the year for the Musical Art Club last Sunday afternoon and its concert at the Del Monte Hotel lounge was well attended.

A complete surprise to those present, few of whom realized the extent of the musical talent of the Edward Kusters, was Gay's rich mezzo-soprano voice and the songs she sang with her husband's cello obbligato. Ted also performed the second and third movements of Elayne Lavrans Piano and Violin Sonata. He arranged the cello part for himself, and while the substitution of this instrument for the violin in this particular composition would not be a permanent choice, as it lacks the brilliance of the lighter strings, the audience approved Mr. Kuster's effort and enjoyed the rich, tonal quality of his cello. Miss Lavrans was at the piano.

Carl Bensberg, accompanied by Jaffrey Harris, sang particularly well, and his Visione Fugitive brought heavy applause.

Angie Machado who, by the way, has just been appointed to fill a vacancy in the music department at Sunset school, added much to the importance of the program by her scholarly work at the piano.

Nothing definite has been decided about continuing these meetings at Hotel Del Monte next fall. There are certain disadvantages to performances in a public lobby where traffic is sometimes disturbing. But the prestige that every artist feels he is acquiring by appearing at Del Monte offsets the disadvantages, many feel.

Mrs. Grace C. Howden was elected president at the business meeting and election of officers held before the concert. Serving with her for the 1942-3 season will be Mrs. Edith Anderson, vice-president; Mrs. Lucretia Goddard, secretary; Miss Mary Burghers, treasurer, and the following new board members: Mrs. Adele Redman, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Manhire, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Kilgour and Mme. Rachelle Doree.

Students Report on Junior Red Cross Convention at Sacramento

The following article is the report of the two Carmel students who attended the last State Junior Red Cross meeting.

On May 9, 1942, there was held at Sacramento, an American Junior Red Cross conference.

Representing the Carmel High School Junior Red Cross Chapter were Jack Fremont and Howard Levinson who left on Friday, covered the convention Saturday, and came home on Sunday. Their expenses were shared by both Junior and Senior Red Cross Chapters of Carmel.

Our Disaster Relief and Preparedness program was completely explained at the conference by Howard Levinson. He told of how the duties of the Junior Disaster Relief were performed in case of an emergency along with the Senior Disaster Relief and Preparedness, of how the Junior Disaster Relief program and Senior Disaster Relief program work together with the Civilian Defense in case of an emergency, and of how the Junior and Senior Relief programs are closely ly connected—so closely connected that the Junior Disaster Relief program is only affiliated with the Junior Red Cross. The conference was opened by the presiding chairman who welcomed all delegates to the conference. The morning session continued with talks stressing the importance of unity in these times. The highlight of this was a talk by Mr. M. R. Schafer, director of Junior Red Cross, Pacific Area, which encouraged the standards and worthiness of Junior Red Cross. He particularly stressed the important work that is being done by the Junior Red Cross for conservation and for the men in arms.

The afternoon session consisted of speeches given by the delegates to the convention among which our own representative was included. The other speakers on the program were from the high schools represented by the Pacific Area, among which were included Carmel, Salinas and Wattonville.

At the closing of the conference the San Jose Chamber of Commerce sent an invitation to hold the next Junior Red Cross conference at their city next May. Mr. Schafer then closed the conference by a short farewell address.

James Fitzgerald Show Sensation at Del Monte

Creating more than a mild sensation among the artists and connoisseurs of the Monterey Peninsula is James Fitzgerald's show of watercolors at the Del Monte Art Gallery. It shows Fitzgerald in a new phase, and the cause of it all is food for much thought and conjecture.

What has Fitzgerald been doing the past year? With whom has he been living? Has he taken up some strange, oriental religion? Such questions pop unthinking from curious mouths. What the answer is, we'll never know, for Fitz isn't the sort to tell.

Whether you like his new work or not, whether you prefer the old to the new, is something you'll have to go to Hotel Del Monte to find out. The gallery is on the mezzanine floor and the 17 watercolors will remain on its walls well into June.

YOU CAN GET SUGAR CARDS IN MONTEREY

Go to the Council chamber in the City Hall at Monterey if you still haven't registered for the sugar rationing. The hours are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and they prefer you to go over in the morning if possible.

Beginning next week there will be only one day residents may register and that will be Wednesday, same hours, but this time in the rationing office and not the council chamber.

Everyone who wants sugar for canning purposes must bring with them their war ration stamp books from each member of the family. You're allowed five pounds on each book, if you need it for your canning program.
